CALL TO WORSHIP

LITURGIST

L: With what shall we come before the Lord?
What shall we bring into the presence of our God,
as an expression of our worship and praise?
P: Shall we bring him all that we own—
our finest possessions, our lifesavings,
our investments and property?
Would God be satisfied if we brought everything we possess?
L: No, that’s not what God is looking for.
God has told you what is good,
and what he expects of you:
P: To act justly.
To love mercy.
To walk humbly with him.

OPENING PRAYER

LITURGIST

O God, we trust in your power, even as it is often found in weakness; in your wisdom, even as it is expressed in seeming foolishness; in your wholeness, even as it comes to us amid brokenness. We do not ask this day for dazzling displays of strength, electric exercises of intellectual prowess, or marvelous manifestations of miracles. We come simply to worship you. Touch us this day, O Lord, sinners that we are, that we might become your saints, your body, your children, your church. For this Temple of your Spirit is built not upon our own abilities, knowledge, or restorative skill, but upon you, in Jesus Christ. Amen.

LITURGIST

Like Micah, the prophet of old, we search for the ways of God in the world. We bring these offerings as symbols of our commitment to continue the search for peace with justice in our local and global communities. We offer these gifts because we know that change is possible. We know that God’s love can work through us transforming and enabling us to live in God’s way. We offer these gifts for the transformation of ourselves and our world for the good of all. Amen.
